The Brixton design has been done with the concept of opening up the internal dimensions of the home. Even the hallway has been minimised to give the ultimate use of space inside the home and it works well. The living, dining and kitchen area covers an area over 45 m². This fantastic area opens up so many possibilities for furniture placement and design. Look at the covered alfresco area! So much space to entertain and it also opens into the main living area. Parents are well looked after with the main bedroom located away from the other bedrooms. It has an ensuite and walk in robe.

Total area 136.46 m²
